6	The prayer in the telegram is for a postponement of the reconstitution of the Dodabalapur Municipal Council until certain projects are carried out
7	The Munl Council was constituted on 10th February 1910, and its ordinary term expired on 9th February 1913. No prompt action for a reconstitution had been taken by the Deputy Comr, the term was extended for one year from 10th Feb 1913, under Sec 17 of the Mysore Munl Regulation. This is the maximum period of extension allowed by law, and a further continuance of the existing Munl Council does not appear to be possible
8	If the Govt intend to continue the existing members on the Munl Council, they may exercise their power of nomination in their favour. But this will enable the Govt to nominate only few of them. In case more seats on the Council are necessary to provide for the gentlemen who are suggested by the election, but whom it is desirable to have on the Council, Govt may temporarily increase the number of nominated members by either reducing the number of Ex Officio members or increasing the number of elected councillors also proportionately (vide proviso to Sec 104 of the Municl Regn).

9 But it is unlikely that the members will be unseated as they have taken so much interest in the town. We may therefore await action arising of such a contingency.

Draft endorsement to the petitioners and a memo to the Dy Comr are put up
